Checklist: Ready to go live with vetstoria ?

Let's do a quick check to see if all your integrations are in order!

Is your widget well-integrated and good to go?

☐ Yes - Great! Pet owners should be able to make their appointments.

☐ No - To insert the widget, simply copy and paste the code into a  inside your webpage. The  will act as the container into which the embedded booking widget will fit. Learn more here.

Is your floating button appearing at the time?

☐ Yes - Nice. Pet owners should be able to find your booking tool easily.

☐ No - Your floating button code needs to be pasted into the header of your HTML page on your website, just before the </head> tag. If you have a website admin, you will just need to provide them with the code shown. Learn more here.

> If you require assistance with your website integration, we are more than happy to help you FREE of charge.
> All we would need is your website admin credentials and which website builder you use (E.g. Wordpress).

Are your Reminder Postcards & Leaflets sorted?

☐ Yes - Perfect. Easier for pet owners to reach your website with a simple scan.

☐ No - We've already attached the QR code to this email. This will link to your booking link so pet owners can scan it off your posters or promotional material. Learn more here.

Are all your email and SMS Vaccination reminders set?

☐ Yes - Cool. That saves more time for your team.

☐ No - We will include your unique reminder link that's in your settings. Get the instructions.

Does Facebook link to the booking tool?

☐ Yes - Nice, that makes it even easier for pet owners to make a booking.

☐ No - We will share your unique booking link so it can be added to the "Add a button" on your Facebook page. You can learn more over here.

Is Instagram accurately connected to your booking link?

☐ Yes - Yay, pet owners can discover you easily.

☐ No - We will share a custom link that you can add to your bio on Instagram. Learn more here.

Is your booking link to your Google My Business (GMB) Page?

☐ Yes - That's awesome. Google is definitely the easiest way to discover your practice.

☐ No - We will share your unique GMB link which is located in your settings. This can be added under "website info" in the info section of your GMB page. Here's how to do it.

What else can you do?

Tip: Now would be a good time to update your hotline messages to say that pet owners can make a booking online without being on hold. You can find a few templates and more social banners over here.

Get access to all our onboarding guides and marketing materials in the Vet vault.

Reach out to our support team via supports@vetstoria.com or click this button.